

THE BOURBON NEWS.

SWIFT CHAMP, - EDITOR AND OWNER

CONTRIBUTION TO MEMORIAL FUND.

Miss Minnie Wilson's music class contributed $2.25 to the Foster Memorial Fund. This is the last contribution handed in to Superintendent McChesney.

WAIT FOR THE THREE B'S.

Wait for Bourbon's Black Blistezns Thursday night, March 1st, at the Opera House. Watch for the grand street parade at two o'clock on date of show. This will be a real minstrel treat.

DR. C. H. BOWEN, the optician, will be at the store of A. J. Winters & Co., on March 8th.

FATAL BURNS.

The four-year-old daughter of Mrs. Ann Conley, near Blue Lick Springs, caught fire while playing with matches. The mother picked her up to put out the blaze and caught fire. The child died in the mother's arms. The mother inhaled the flames and died Tuesday evening.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

I will not be responsible for any debts contracted from this date, February 20th, 1906, by my wife, Mrs. W. R. Price.

FUN GALORE.

A grand overture, four specialties and an afterpiece that is worth the price of admission will be given at the entertainment of Bourbon's Black Blistezns at the Opera House on March 1st. Lower floor reserved for the whites. Prices, 25, 35, 50.

ADJUDGED INSANE.

Walter Stewart, a well-known young man of this city, was Tuesday adjudged to be of unsound mind and was taken to the Lexington asylum by Constable Lee Beall. Stewart lately purchased a grocery on Eighth street, and had just taken possession. His misfortune is supposed to have been the result of a recent serious illness.

SPRING PATTERNS.

Our line of wall paper for Spring has just arrived, new patterns, new styles, any priced paper you want. Experienced decorators to put it on the wall. Now is the time to buy wall paper.

CARLISLE TOBACCO FACTORY.

Several of the enterprising citizens of Carlisle have decided to start a tobacco factory for the manufacture of all kinds of chewing and smoking tobacco, snuff and cigars. Articles of incorporation have been filed with the Secretary of State. The company will be capitalized at $5,000, the stock to be divided into shares of $25 each.

GOOD FOR A TOWN.

Eastern capitalists have selected a site and have begun arrangements to build a large saw and planing mill at Irvine, Estill county. They will also erect a veneering mill and box factory and will employ 150 hands. The entire plant will involve an expenditure of $300,000.

HERE IS A GOOD INVESTMENT.

Four houses in Paris, comparatively new, largest cistern in town. Rents for $24.00 per month. Price $2,200. Pays over 13 per cent on investment. Address, "E. E. S." News office.

L. & N. DERRICK FALLS.

Mr. James Richey, of this city, was caught by a falling derrick at Livingston, Tuesday, and had one of his legs badly broken. Henry Lennox, another L. & N. employe, was probably fatally injured, being caught under one of the heavy timbers. Richey was brought to his home on Main street, where he is resting quietly.

LAND TO BE SOLD.

State Revenue Agent, J. F. Hawn, of Barbourville, has received far-reaching orders in regard to selling land on which the redemption period has expired. The order applies to all land sold and bid in for State and county taxes for 1880 to 1903, the aggregate amount involved reaching into the millions. Practically all Eastern Kentucky is included in the order, and among the tracts of land are a number of timber and mineral acreages.

THE KENTUCKIAN-CITIZENS' JUBILEE.

Our esteemed contemporary, The Kentuckian-Citizen, on yesterday, celebrated its one hundredth year of its continuous publication by a reception at its commodious quarters, from 1:30 till 4 o'clock. A large number of guests, both ladies and gentlemen, called to offer congratulations to Mr. Bruce Miller, the present editor and owner.

The Kentucky Herald in 1807 was converted into the Western Citizen by Joel Reid Lyle. The True Kentuckian was established in 1866 by John Givens Craddock, the first issue appearing on February 22 of that year. It was merged with The Western Citizen in 1886, since which time it has appeared under the present name, The Kentuckian-Citizen. Col. Craddock continued to conduct the paper till May, 1899, when he leased his entire plant to Mr. Miller, who afterwards purchased the outfit from his administrators.

Mr. Bruce Miller, the present editor and owner of The Kentuckian-Citizen, is the son of the late James H. Miller, of Millersburg, and a great-grandson of John Miller, who founded the town of Millersburg. In 1881 he entered the Bourbon News office as an apprentice under his uncle, the late Bruce Champ, and continued in his employ until Mr. Champ's death in 1892. Then till 1899 he was a partner of the late Walter Champ in conducting the News, when he leased the paper he now owns. It will be seen that Mr. Miller has come up from the ground floor in the newspaper business, and no better equipped man in every sense can be found on the roster of Kentucky journalists than the name of Bruce Miller. He is a young man of fine business traits, which has been shown by him starting with nothing and now being the possessor of one of the best papers and best printing plants in the State. We are glad to have such an agreeable gentleman for a competitor, and sincerely wish that his future life will be crowned with the success he so richly deserves.

The reception was indeed an enjoyable occasion. The guests first entered the composing room, and were shown the workings of the new Simplex typesetting machine just installed. They were then escorted upstairs to one of the front rooms, where the punch bowl was presided over by Mrs. Bruce Miller, Mrs. R. K. McCarney, Miss Margaret Butler and Mrs. Nathan Bayless, Jr.

Then you were ushered into another room where a bowl of delicious soup was served; thence to another room where a sumptuous buffet luncheon was served—turkey, ham, salads, pickles, cheese, potato chips, celery, coffee, etc., etc.,

This was not all, by any means, for you were invited into another room, where the gentlemanly dispenser of everything that is good in the drinking line, Mr. Murray Higgins, was found at the sideboard awaiting your pleasure.

All in all, it was a grand success, and we were sorry when the leaving time arrived. If you were not there you missed the reception of the season, and that's all there is to it.

SECOND CHASE SUCCESSFUL.

After a second chase of several miles through the open country by Deputy Sheriff S. A. Thompson and W. F. Talbott the much wanted Emery Pore, of Robinson county, was captured. He escaped the officers last week, and being located again Wednesday he saw them coming and made for the woods. Mr. Thompson unhitched his horse from his buggy, and mounting him cleared fences like an old-time fox hunter until he overtook the fleet-footed Pore, who refused then to stop until Mr. Thompson fired his pistol twice as a reminder that the race was growing tiresome. Deputy Sheriff Letton took the prisoner to Mt. Olivet yesterday, where he was wanted on a number of charges.

CHECK FOR $40,000.

Following the unsuccessful attempt of the heirs to break the will of the late Mrs. S. P. Lees, of New York, Central University received Tuesday a check for $40,000 as an unconditional bequest. Of this, $15,000 will go to the S. P. Lees Institute, academy branch at Jackson, and $25,000 to the University here. By the same will several charitable institutions and Southern Presbyterian churches throughout the South are largely benefitted. During her life Mrs. Lees had been a staunch friend of old Central University in Richmond, giving largely from her means at various times.

He is a missionary of the Presbyterian Church in India, having just returned from that country, where he has been since 1889. He is taking a year's vacation at his old home in Ohio, and will return to his missionary work in India when his year is up.

—Mrs. Henry Butler entertained very delightfully Wednesday afternoon with a six-hand euchre party in honor of her guest, Mrs. Sperry, of Louisville, and Mrs. John Stuart Roberts. The house was beautifully and artistically decorated with flags of all sizes in honor of the day, other decorations were baskets and pots of pretty green plants. The games were marked on tallies decorated with small flags held with red, white and blue ribbons.

A delightful luncheon was served, after which unique little hatchets were given all the guests as souvenirs. Three handsome prizes were awarded. The guests prize, a silver call bell, was given Mrs. Sperry. The first prize, a hand painted plate, was won by Mrs. B. M. Renick, after cutting with Mrs. Owen Davis. Miss Matilda Alexander and Mrs. Edith Alexander Bronston cut for second prize, the former winning. It was a very stylish water color picture. The guests were Mesdames D. B. Sperry, Jesse Turney, Catesby Woodford, Tom Buckner, Owen Davis, J. M. Hall, W. C. Ussery, John Stuart Roberts, Mary Ireland Davis, Amos Turney, George Stuart, Bismarck Frank, Frank M. Clay, Harry Clay, W. T. Brooks, B. M. Renick, J. S. Wallingford, Cordie Parker, Edith Alexander Bronston, Thompson Tarr, Walter Kenney, Brice Steele, W. E. Board, Robert Goggin, James Duncan Bell, J. F. Ireland, Swift Champ, Fred Wallace, Tom Fisher, Louis Hooge, Wilburn Reese, James E. Clay, W. R. Scott, Clark Barnett, Hume Payne, Clay Howard, and Misses Kate Alexander, Mary Clay, Sallie Lockhart, Nan Wilson and Emma Scott.

—The ball given by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers at Odd Fellows' Hall on Wednesday evening was a very enjoyable affair. The hall was beautifully decorated in red, white and blue streamers, which were caught in the middle of the room with a large Japanese fan dropping from the center. The Winchester Orchestra furnished the music. There were about one hundred guests present. Among those from a distance were Miss Pauline Sterzer and Mr. M. J. Kelley, Miss Clara Ney and Mr. F. Cichenlaub, Miss Margaret Williamson and Mr. Geo. Kornhoff, of Cincinnati; Mrs. J. J. Hodges, Miss Gosney, Mr. Scott Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, Misses Nettie and Virgie Smith, of Covington; Miss Laura Elliott and Mr. T. L. Campbell, of Lexington.

This Spring

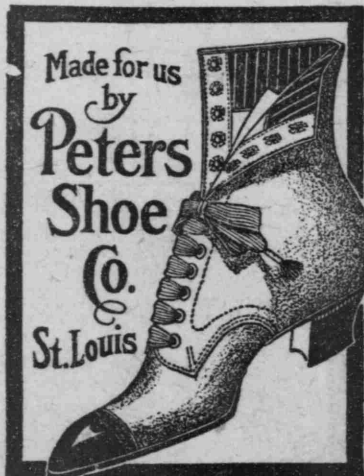

I will, as usual, offer the most attractive line of Rugs and Carpets ever shown in Paris. My prices are always right. I buy the best goods obtainable, and sell them as low as they can consistently be sold and will guarantee you that you receive absolutely fair treatment.

I am not selling $48.98 Rugs for $4.67½ nor am I selling $3.87½ Dressers for $18.98 reduced from $78.50, but I WILL sell you as good an article of any kind found in a furniture store for $25 or whatever the price may be as you find elsewhere, and usually it is a shade better. This I want to impress on you—don't buy anything in the house-furnishing line until you see what I have to offer. Nothing but new goods; no second-hand stuff.
